MIDWAY CINEMA OPENS AFTER SHUTDOWNS IN MARCH AND NOVEMBER

CHEHALIS: Cinema Currently Offering Weekend, Monday Shows

By Emily Fitzgerald emily@chronline.com

Midway Cinema is officially back open for weekend showtimes, with lower prices and COVID-19 protocols in place to encourage community members to safely make their way back to the movies.

The Chehalis cinema reopened Friday, Feb. 5, after being temporarily shut down due to COVID-19 regulations. It was allowed to reopen after the West Region moved into Phase 2 of Gov. Jay Inslee's "Healthy Washington" reopening plan.

"It was a good turnout. I think people want to come back," said Mark Murin, director of operations for Coming Attractions Theaters.

Midway is part of Coming Attractions' 16-theater circuit on the West Coast, and it is the first of the circuit's two Washington locations to reopen. The other theater, Riverside Cinema, is located in Grays Harbor County and needs to rehire staff before it can reopen, said Murin.

Midway Cinema is operating at about half of its staffing capacity, with 10 employees on the payroll working between part time and full time.

"We're just doing our best to not spend a lot of money, save on payroll," Murin said.

Midway first shut down due to COVID-19 regulations back in March and reopened on weekends for roughly six weeks in July before another change in regulations shut the cinema down again in November.

The cinema briefly tried curbside concession sales in June, but found that it wasn't financially feasible to continue.

"Restaurants can do curbside takeout and delivery; unfortunately we can't," said

Midway is limiting showtimes to Friday through Monday.

"We're just not capable of going back up to seven days a week fully scheduled," Murin said.

With most major blockbuster movie releases either released directly onto streaming platforms or delayed until March at the earliest, Midway is offering a mix of new movies that people may not have heard of and old favorites.

Last weekend's offerings included new releases "Judas and the Black Messiah" and "The World to Come," some titles that have been out for a couple weeks, such as "The Little Things," "The Marksman," "The Reckoning" and "Weekenders," and some titles that have been out a month or longer, namely "Monster Hunter," "News of the World," "The Croods: A New Age," "Wonder Woman

1984'' and - in honor of Valentine's Day — a daily showing of "The Notebook."

Many of last weekend's showtimes were canceled due to severe winter weather and unsafe driving conditions, but the reduced slate of showtimes will resume as soon as the weather allows.

Ticket prices are currently $7 for adults and $5 for kids for a recently-released movie, and $5 for all audience members seeing a classic movie.

In addition to the standard showtimes, Midway is also renting out a theater for private screenings for parties of up to 20 people. Email aprivaterental@catheatres.com

"Normally we wouldn't be able to have an empty theater," said Murin, adding that "every little bit helps."

all theater staff and guests are required to wear masks while up and about. A full list of guidelines is available online at www.cinemasafe.org.

"We're just trying to protect our guests and our staff," said Murin.

DearAbby

DEAR ABBY: I am surprised I see so many nurses wearing their scrubs in the supermarket. To me, if they are coming from the hospital, their clothes will have germs on them, and if they are going to the hospital, they could bring germs with them. What do you say? — VINNIE IN NEW JERSEY

DEAR VINNIE: Many people in the medical field choose to wear scrubs because they are convenient. Whether these individuals are actually nurses is anybody's guess. They could be office staff, technicians, etc. and not necessarily exposing the public or patients to germs they wouldn't otherwise encounter.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 46-yearold woman, about to be married for the second time. My fiance lives with me and my two children from my previous marriage.

Other than cooking break-fast and some quick snacks, he does not contribute to the household. My issue is, I pay all the bills, and he complains about the temperature inside my home. My children and I need it to be cooler. If it's too hot, we sweat and become congested, which we hate, and it makes us irritable. I tell him to put on more clothes if he is cold, but he complains to the point that I turn off the fans and air.

My question is, don't I have a right to be comfortable in the home I pay for? He doesn't pay, so he should adjust to our climate. Right? — HOT & FRUS-TRATED IN VIRGINIA

DEAR HOT & FRUSTRATED:

The answers to your questions are yes and yes. And your fi-— should invest in a portable heater, which may solve his problem.

P.S. Are you ABSOLUTELY sure you want to be married to this prize? Nowhere in your letter did you say you love this person. Not once did you mention his endearing qualities. Frankly, from your description, he seems like a third child.

DEAR ABBY: My dad passed away 25 years ago when I was barely a teen. My boyfriend proposed in March, and we are planning our nuptials next fall.

As a girl, I dreamed my dad would walk me down the aisle. I would now like my uncle to step in and fill that role. He has a daughter who is older than I am. She has been married for many years. Out of respect, I would like to ask her if she's OK with my asking her father. I'm pretty sure she won't mind, but I feel asking her is the right thing to do. I'm unsure how to go about it. Any suggestions would be greatly appreciated. — MARRYING IN MAINE pear marrying: Congratulations on your forthcoming nuptials. What you are considering is not unusual and, frankly, it's a great compliment to your uncle. I think your idea of running it by your cousin is sensitive as well as prudent. The discussion would be more loving and productive if you conduct it in person or by phone rather than a text or email. I can see no reason why she shouldn't be thrilled for you and her dad.

DEAR ABBY: I have a job I love. My co-workers are nice, but once I punch out at the end of the day, I want to forget them. I believe that's how it should be, but some of them try to arrange meet-ups after work to hang out. Or they insist on becoming my friend on social media. I don't consider them social friends, and I don't think they need to know the details of my private life. Is there a nice way to tell these people to back off a little because we only work together? — NINE TO FIVE IN NEW YORK

DEAR NINE TO FIVE: When you are invited to hang out after work, explain that you have things you need to do or previous commitments. And as for sharing your personal information with them online, all you have to say is that you prefer to keep your business and personal lives separate.

DEAR ABBY: Because my husband and I work, I take our 6-month-old to a sitter several times a week. I understand little ones tend to be mean sometimes — hitting, biting and pushing — but in this case, it's a little different.

My sitter cares for her 3-year-old granddaughter as well as her clients' children, and her granddaughter pushes the littler ones. I have seen her push a 1-year-old down. I have never observed any of the other children do it, only the granddaughter.

I wouldn't be so worried if my daughter were 2 and could defend herself, but she's only 6 months old. She is crawling, sitting up and standing already, and I'm gravely worried the girl will harm my infant. I don't want my baby ending up with a head injury. What can I do to try to resolve this? — DEEPLY CONCERNED IN THE SOUTH

DEAR DEEPLY CON- CERNED: Talk to the sitter about your concerns. Ask if it is possible to keep the older girl separate from the younger ones, however, the only way to be absolutely certain your little one is safe would be to change babysitters.

DEAR ABBY: I made a friend on Facebook. "Drew" and I texted through Messenger, and I went to ride four-wheelers with him one day. We hit it off great. We started dating, and he moved in with me for a few

In the beginning, Drew didn't mention he was working only part time. After he told me he had been moved to part time, I told him he needed to tell his boss he needed full time or a different job. I wrote a comment to that effect on their page, and his boss texted me back saying Drew can work as much as he wants! He also said Drew hasn't worked full time since he started working there.

Well, Drew got mad at me and left. I still love him. I thought he was my soul mate. Should I keep wishing we could get back together? — FEELING LIFELESS

DEAR FEELING LIFELESS:

No! In a sense, you were taken for a ride, and I'm not talking about four-wheelers. Your next soul mate should be someone who is completely honest and, preferably, fully employed. Drew is neither. DEAR ABBY: I have been remarried for four years to a wonderful man who treats me like a queen. However, he and my 18-year-old daughter dislike each other, which causes a huge amount of stress and conflict. They fight, and I'm stuck in the middle. I don't know what I can do to resolve this problem. I love them both with all my heart! — DESPERATE FOR PEACE

DEAR DESPERATE: I wish you had mentioned why your husband dislikes your daughter and vice versa. Is he overbearing and trying to parent her? That is YOUR job, not his.

Your daughter is no longer 14. At 18, she is now considered to be an adult, and because the "combatants" are both adults, they should act like it, be civil and refrain from turning their disagreements into open warfare. Your mistake has been allowing yourself to be placed in the middle. A better solution would be to get family counseling if your daughter plans to continue to live with you.

The zombie saga continues

'The Walking Dead' returns to prime time

By Kyla Brewer TV Media

Good things come to those who wait, as the saying goes, but the wait for new episodes can test even the most dedicated of TV fandom. Luckily for zombie fans, one of television's most successful horror series is about to return.

Following the end of the Whisperer War, the survivors scatter and struggle to find the strength to go on as they face past traumas and deal with new threats in "The Walking Dead," airing Sunday, Feb. 28, on AMC. The midseason debut kicks off the final six episodes of Season 10, each of which will focus on small groups of the show's characters in the lead-up to TWD's 11th and final season. Subscribers to AMC's streaming service AMC+ will get to watch the new episodes even earlier as they premiere on Thursdays, beginning Feb. 25.

Based on the comic book series of the same name by Robert Kirkman, Tony Moore and Charlie Adlard, "The Walking Dead" follows a group of people trying to survive a zombie apocalypse. Over the course of several seasons, they have banded together to battle all kinds of threats from both the undead and the living.

When the most recent episode of "The Walking Dead" aired in October, the characters had finally triumphed over the Whisperers and Daryl (Norman Reedus, "The Boondock Saints," 1999) killed their leader, Beta (Ryan Hurst, "Sons of Anarchy"). The episode also featured the return of Maggie (Lauren Cohan, "Whiskey Cavalier"), who had been gone since Season 9, her whereabouts unknown. Originally scheduled to air on April 12, 2020, the episode was supposed to be the Season 10 finale, but it was announced during San Diego Comic Con's Home Stream event that an additional six episodes would air between February and April 2021. In January, Cinema Blend revealed that "The Walking Dead" showrunner Angela Kang had explained that each of the six remaining episodes would focus on what is going on with specific characters, rather than moving the story forward as a whole.

"There [are] some other things that we're doing deep dives into, like Daryl and Carol and Negan, Gabriel, and Aaron has some really cool stuff," Kang said.

Fans can expect to meet some new characters as Season 10 winds down, too. Viewers who caught the October episode would have gotten a glimpse of Maggie's new masked ally, Elijah, who is played by Okea Eme-Akwari ("Greenland," 2020). Robert Patrick ("Terminator 2: Judgment Day," 1991) will also appear in Season 10 as Mays, a "rough-looking survivor" who encounters Father Gabriel (Seth Gilliam, "The Wire"). One of the six new episodes will focus completely on Negan (Jeffrey Dean Morgan, "Supernatural") and give viewers some insight into his backstory with an appearance by his wife, Lucille, namesake of his trademark baseball-bat-turned-weapon. Incidentally, Morgan's real-life wife, Hilarie Burton Morgan ("One Tree Hill"), will portray Lucille.

Other storylines featured in the new bonus episodes include Maggie and Daryl battling an unseen and unknown threat, Negan's safety once again in jeopardy, and Daryl and Carol (Melissa McBride, "Dawson's Creek") coming across an old cabin that makes Daryl think of the $time\ he\ left\ the\ group.\ Gabriel\ and$ Aaron (Ross Marquand, "Avengers: Infinity War," 2018) are put to the test while on a scouting mission, while, elsewhere, Eugene (Josh McDermitt, "Last Comic Standing"), Ezekiel (Khary Payton, "Young Justice"), Yumiko (Éleanor Matsuura, "Utopia") and Princess (Paola Lázaro, "Lethal Weapon") are captured. Also, Daryl and Carol appear to go their separate

The remaining six episodes of Season 10 will surely be bittersweet for fans of the series who know that the next season will be the show's last. It's been an unlikely hit in the sea of typical comedies and dramas that air on prime time. The show premiered in 2010 to solid ratings, attracting an average of between four and six million viewers. The show's popularity grew, and in 2014 "The Walking Dead's" Season 5 premiere attracted more than 17 million viewers, making it one of the most watched cable series in history. The show's ratings have slowly declined since then, but it has earned its share of industry accolades, including a Golden Globe nomination for Best Television Series - Drama and a Writers Guild of America Award nomination for Best New Series. "The Walking Dead" won a Primetime Creative Arts Emmy Award for Outstanding Prosthetic Makeup for a Series, Limited Series, Movie or Special in 2011.

Even though the beginning of the end may be near for the original "The Walking Dead," its legacy will live on in various spinoffs. "Fear the Walking Dead," which looks at a totally different group of survivors earlier in the apocalypse, has been going strong since 2015. More recently, AMC premiered "The Walking Dead: World Beyond," which focuses on a group of mostly younger survivors. It premiered in October and is slated for two seasons. Much to the delight of fans, favorites from the original show, Daryl and Carol, will get their very own as-yet-unnamed series, tentatively scheduled to premiere in 2023.

So there is hope for TWD fans. And while the subject matter is undeniably steeped in fear, many fans assert that "The Walking Dead" is ultimately about hope. Even as monsters surround them, the survivors come together to forge a future for all of humanity. Find out whether their efforts pay off in the return of "The Walking Dead," airing Sunday, Feb. 28, on AMC.

Andra Day stars in "The United States vs. Billie Holiday"

By Dana Simpson TV Media

"The United States vs. Billie Holiday" (2020)

Get into the music and take in all of Lady Day when the new feature film "The United States vs. Billie Holiday" comes to Hulu on Friday, Feb. 26. Known in her time and throughout history as one of jazz and blues music's most valued and haunting voices, Billie Holiday's (portrayed by triple-threat performer Andra Day, "Marshall," 2017) soul and honesty spoke to many during a career that spanned more than a quarter-century. This biographical music drama chronicles the Federal Bureau of Narcotics' investigation into Holiday that began in 1939 and lasted for several years of arrests and censorship, and which ultimately contributed to her death in a hotel room under police watch 20 years later. Adapted for the screen by Suzan-Lori Parks ("Their Eyes Were Watching God," 2005) and with inspiration from Johann Hari's 2015 book "Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs," this film, directed by Lee Daniels ("Lee Daniels' The Butler," 2013), also stars Trevante Rhodes ("Moonlight," 2016), Garrett Hedlund ("TRON: Legacy," 2010), Leslie Jordan ("The Help," 2011), Natasha Lyonne ("Orange Is the New Black) and Tyler James Williams ("Dear White People," 2014).

"Dredd" (2012)

Head to the future for an actionpacked viewing of Hulu's newest addition, "Dredd." Joining the streamer on Tuesday, Feb. 23, this science-fiction film takes place in a future metropolis where the police have ultimate control over the population and can prosecute or execute its citizens at their whim and will. Also plagued by SLO-MO, a reality-bending drug, the city is now in the hands of a police officer who has teamed up with a trainee to take down the gang responsible for the drug's distribution. Featuring Karl Urban ("Lord of the Rings: The Two Towers," 2002) as the title char $acter, Judge\, Dredd-first\, created\, by$ Carlos Ezquerra and John Wagner for the 1995 film "Judge Dredd" – this action film reboot also stars Jason Cope ("District 9," 2009), Olivia Thirlby ("Juno," 2007), Rakie Ayola ("Been So Long," 2018), Lena Headey ("Game of Thrones") and Wood Harris ("Ant-Man," 2015). "Dredd" was directed by Pete Travis ("Vantage Point," 2008).

"Florence Foster Jenkins" (2016)

Lift your head up, follow your dreams and, most importantly, spread joy with "Florence Foster Jenkins" - a film based on the inspirational true story of an American socialite who decided to follow her dream of being an opera singer when she was in her 40s - joining the Hulu roster on Friday, Feb. 26.

At her father's – keeper of the funds - urging, Florence (played by Academy Award winner Meryl Streep, "The Devil Wears Prada," 2006) was forced to give up her dream of being a professional musician at a young age. However, after the patriarch's death some years later, Florence seizes the opportunity to reignite her passion for the musical arts. The only problem is that she has a terrible singing voice. With the help of her husband, St. Clair Bayfield (portrayed by Golden Globe winner Hugh Grant, "Love Actually," 2003), and concert pianist Cosmé Mc-Moon (Simon Helberg, "The Big Bang Theory"), Florence begins giving concerts in her mid-40s and ends up the laughingstock of the town. Rather than seeing this as a failure, Florence chooses to see this as a victory and uses it as a way to spread joy to those who needed it the most, resulting in Florence Foster Jenkins becoming somewhat of a household name and cult figure in the New York City music scene during the 1920s, '30s and '40s. Directed by Stephen Frears ("Philomena," 2013), the film also stars Rebecca Ferguson ("Mission: Impossible - Rogue Nation," 2015), Stanley Townsend ("The Libertine," 2004) and Nina Arianda ("Midnight in Paris." 2011).

Joel Kinnaman stars in "The Informer"

"The Informer" (2020)

Find out just what a man would do for his freedom and to secure a normal life for his family with "The Informer," coming Friday, Feb. 26, to Prime. Ex-con, family man and former special operations soldier Pete Koslow (Joel Kinnaman, "The Killing") has been working alongside the FBI as an informant for quite some time in an operation to take down a powerful New York City crime lord who goes by the name The General. When one of his assigned stings goes sideways and an undercover police officer is killed, Koslow becomes a pawn in a game between the criminal underworld and the organization trying to expose it. Agreeing to get himself reincarcerated in order to expose The General from inside the system, Koslow soon comes to realize that the only person he can trust is himself. Starring Rosamund Pike ("Gone Girl," 2014), Clive Owen ("Children of Men," 2006), Ana de Armas ("Blade Runner 2049," 2017), Mateusz Kosciukiewicz ("In the Name Of," 2013), Common ("Suicide Squad," 2016) and new actor Karma Meyer, "The Informer" was directed by Andrea di Stefano ("Escobar: Paradise Lost," 2014) and was based on the 2009 novel "Three Seconds" by Swedish authors Börge Hellström and Anders Roslund.

"To Catch a Thief" (1955)

Two of the most revered actors from the golden age of Hollywood come together in the thriller masterpiece "To Catch a Thief," available now to stream on Prime. Directed by the Master of Suspense himself, Alfred Hitchcock ("Psycho," 1960), this blood-pumping crime adventure stars Cary Grant ("North by Northwest," 1959) as John "The Cat" Robie, a notorious, albeit retired, jewel thief who was known and nicknamed for his uncanny agility and stealth when nicking the most valuable pieces from his wealthy victims in France. So naturally, when jewels begin to go missing from well-todo quests at hotels all over Nice, France, the police suspect Robie of coming out of retirement. Teaming up with an insurance adjuster (John Williams, "Sabrina," 1954) for a list of rich, insured hotel guests, Robie hopes to catch the copycat thief in action and prove his innocence to the police once and for all. Along the way he meets quirky American widow Jessie Stevens (Jessie Royce Landis, "The Swan," 1956) and her gorgeous and intelligent daughter, Frances (Grace Kelly, "Rear Window," 1954), who also provide a special brand of their own help. Thrice nominated at the 1956 Academy Awards, this film classic came away with an Oscar for Best Cinematography, Color – thanks to Hitchcock's workpal Robert Burks ("Vertigo," 1958).

"The Affair"

If you're looking for more material to binge during the pandemic, look no further than "The Affair," all five seasons of which are available now to stream on Prime. Originally released on Showtime in 2014, this American drama series explores all the emotions, excitement and excuses that come into play when the halves of two separate married couples join together in an extramarital affair. Examining everything from the reasons people stray outside of their relationships to the guilt and fear they might feel once another relationship has been established, "The Affair" follows teacher, struggling novelist and married father of four Noah Solloway (Dominic West, "The Wire") and Alison Lockhart (Ruth Wilson, "Luther"), a young waitress and wife who is struggling to pick up the pieces of her life following a tragedy. Both from different parts of New York state – Noah living in New York City and Alison in Montauk at the tip of Long Island – the two meet while the Solloways are on vacation to escape the hustle and bustle of the Big Apple. Thrown together amid various situations during the Solloway family's stay on the peninsula, Noah and Alison begin to gain more comfort in the presence of one another until they are forced to confront their budding relationship despite their marital statuses. From here over the course of five 10- to 12-episode seasons, their story plays out through several biases and points of view, showing just how far the ripples of one person's decision to cheat can reach. Created by Israeli writer/producer Hagai Levi ("Our Boys") and "House of Cards" producer Sarah Treem, "The Affair" won a total of three Golden Globe awards and also stars Maura Tierny ("ER"), Joshua Jackson ("Dawson's Creek") and Omar Metwally ("Mr. Robot").

Diesel La Torraca, Brianne Howey and Antonia Gentry in "Ginny & Georgia"

By Dana Simpson TV Media

"Ginny & Georgia"

Test and explore the strength of a mother-daughter bond when the new Netflix series "Ginny & Georgia" makes its debut on Wednesday, Feb. 24, on the streamer. After having lived somewhat of a nomadic lifestyle, moving town to town for much of their lives, edgy and rootless 30-year-old Georgia Miller (Brianne Howey, "The Exorcist") and her two children, 15-year-old Ginny (Antonia Gentry, "Candy Jar," 2018) and young Austin (Diesel La Torraca, "Lambs of God"), land in Massachusetts for yet another "fresh start" (as so delicately put by Georgia). As the family begins to settle in and Georgia realizes how well her kids are adapting to this specific new lifestyle, she starts to question whether moving again, as she had always planned, is a good idea after all. While planting roots ultimately seems like the only way to give her kids the stability they crave, the longer they stay in the Massachusetts town, the more it seems there may be a more sinister and urgent reason behind the Millers' constant need to relocate. Written and produced by new talent Sarah Lampert ("Haze," 2016), this quirky 10-episode dramedy series' premiere season also stars a largely Canadian supporting cast, including Felix Mallard ("Locke & Key"), Sara Waisglass ("Degrassi: The Next Generation"), Jennifer Robertson ("Schitt's Creek") and Alex Mallari Jr. ("Dark Matter").

"Caught by a Wave" (2021)

Take a trip to Italy with the brand new Netflix original film "Caught by a Wave," coming to the streamer on Friday, Feb. 26. Rife with beautiful scenery, the heightened and exciting emotions that drive young love and all the drama of being a teenager, this romantic drama stars the voices of Oliver Paris ("Go! Live Your Way") and Olivia Castanho ("Triad Princess") in

"Crazy About Her" (2021)

Get crazy with the new Spanishlanguage Netflix original film "Crazy Abaitua, "Compulsion," 2017), a young woman in a bar who wants nothing more than to find someone to spend a wild night with on the town, and Adri (Álvaro Cervantes, "Hanna," 2011), the young man who obliges Carla's wishes. Following a hilarious, fun-filled evening running free and getting up to all sorts of mischief, Adri wants to spend more time with Carla, so he makes the decision to check himself into the psychiatric facility where Carla lives. Originally titled "Loco por ella," this romantic comedy written by Natalia Durán ("The Girl from the Song," 2017) and Eric Navarro ("The Wedding Unplanner," 2020) also stars Luis Zahera ("Unauthorized Living"), Alberto San Juan ("The People Upstairs," 2020), Clara Segura ("The Sea Inside," 2004) and Txell Aixendri ("Yucatán," 2018). hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q: Is Tyler Perry's "The Haves and the Have Nots" coming back?

A: We "have" a few more episodes of the beloved, long-running OWN drama left, after which we all become "have nots."

The show is midway through its eighth season, and the news of its cancellation came as it went into mid-season hiatus. The back half of this now-final season will premiere in May.

The series has been a flagship for OWN, helping revive its ratings after a few rough early years, and it seems that no one is sadder to see it go than Oprah Winfrey herself (she's the "O" and "W" in OWN, in case you didn't know).

"'The Haves and the Have Nots' was the first scripted drama we aired on OWN, and to say it took off from the first day it hit the air is an understatement," she said in the official announcement of the show's cancellation. "I will be watching alongside you all during this final season."

She didn't say why the show is ending, but we can make some guesses. Its ratings have been falling pretty steadily over the past few seasons - the first half of Season 8 drew just over a million sets of eyes on average, whereas last season drew an average of 1.32 million, and early in the show's run. that number was nearly double at close to 3 million.

Q: Who sings the theme for "Dawson's Creek"?

A: This seemed like it was going to be easy. I was about to go ahead and say that it's Paula Cole, singing "I Don't Want to Wait," one of the great pop-songs-as-theme-songs in TV history, but that's because I haven't checked in on "Dawson's Creek" in a while.

If you're watching it on Netflix these days, or on some DVD releases, you're hearing a different theme: "Run Like Mad" by Canadian pop star Jann Arden.

That may be disappointing for original fans, but it was a rather clever selection. Swapping out the theme song of a beloved show always risks angering the purists in the audience, but picking "Run Like Mad" kind of out-pures the purists because it was the producers' original choice. It was, in fact, written and recorded specifically for use as the "Dawson's Creek" theme.

The story goes that, after commissioning Arden to do the theme, the show's producers put together a series of promotional videos for the show with various then-current pop songs in the background. A WB Network exec saw the one with "I Don't Want to Wait" on the soundtrack and asked the producers to use that as the theme instead.

They did, but unfortunately they only cleared the song rights for broadcast and the first two seasons of a DVD release. And now the rights holders aren't willing to shell out for more.

Despite things coming back full circle to Arden's song, no one's really happy with the arrangement (pun not intended, but gladly left in).

Cole is downright angry. "Not only do I have to deal ... with my name being both married to and usurped by the success of that show, but, even worse, I'm now being erased from the association with 'Dawson's Creek' due to [what feels to me like] corporate greed," she fumed in an interview with the Huffinaton Post.
